STRUCK WITH A BOTTLE.

Thomas Brogan and John McNicholls Have an Encounter in Ferguson's Hotel on Luzerne Street.

Thomas Brogan and John McNicholls had an encounter in Ferguson's hotel on Luzerne street about 10.30 last evening. In the course of the melee Brogan was struck several times on the head with a bottle held by McNicholls. Brogan was taken to the West Side hospital and his injuries dressed. The largest cut extends over the left ear and is about four inches in length. Brogan has sworn out a warrant for McNicholls' arrest. The place where the fracas occurred is better known as the "Cardiff House."

PROMISED IMPROVEMENT.

At last steps have been taken to remove the swamp nuisance on South Garfield avenue. Attention was directed to the condition of the street nearly two months ago by the Tribune. Nothing beyond a temporary fixing was done at that time but last week Select Councilman R. H. Williams, of the Fifth ward, introduced a resolution in select council requesting a suitable contract for the section requiring drainage. The long delay is somewhat explained by the trouble in passing the general appropriation ordinance but things will soon be placed in proper shape. As was indicated by the Tribune the old drain had been rendered useless by continued settlements of the mine chambers beneath that section. For a time the abutting property owners coped with the evil but it has at last become too much and the immediate action of council will be a welcome relief.

AFTER THE REGULAR SESSION.

Worshipful Master William Parsons, of the Hyde Park lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, is making it worth while to attend the regular sessions of the lodge, though it is summer and very warm for indoor affairs. This evening a programme of exercises will follow the regular business. Rev. Thomas De Gruchy will speak. Rev. James Hughes, mark master of Kimberly lodge, South Africa, will give his lecture on "Africa." The reverend gentleman has been heard before and many no doubt will desire to hear him again. The lodge Gleec club will also entertain. Visiting brothers are welcome.

COMING EXCURSIONS.

St. Brendan council, Young Men's Institute, will hold their annual outing at Shawanese (Harvey's) lake this year. The boys are completing arrangements and expect to afford their patrons good entertainment. A large banner, hung across South Main avenue, announces the date as August 10. On August 14, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western machine and car shop Mutual Aid will conduct their annual excursion, going this time to Shawanese (Harvey's) lake. The Aid expects to take more friends this time than ever before. A large number of West Siders are expected to attend the joint excursion of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union societies. The unions always conduct popular excursions. They go to Farview on July 21 this time.

building will be considerably larger. It will be 100 feet deep by 35 wide and two stories in height. Work will be commenced this week. Several of the West Side collieries only worked part time the closing days of last week though full time is the schedule. This was due to lack of big cars to take the coal from the breaker. However, by the close of this week, there will be ample car supply as many will be brought back from yards near the seaboard and the cars will be on ten hours to clear the "cripples" out. John H. Reynolds, barber at Governor's headquarters, is at present at Camp Birney. Mr. Reynolds will return this week. ## TO PURIFY WATER.

Description of a Filter Within the Reach of All. From Popular Science News. The following is a description of a filter, which will purify foul water from organic impurities, held in solution, as well as suspended solids. Take any suitable vessel, with a perforated, false bottom, and cover it with a layer of animal charcoal; on top of that spread a layer of iron filings, borings or turnings, the finer the better, mixed with charcoal dust; on top of the fillings place a layer of fine, clean, siliceous sand, and you will have a perfect filter. Allow the foul water to filter slowly through the above and you will produce a remarkably pure drinking water. Before placing the iron fillings in the filter they must be well washed in a hot solution of soda or potash, to remove oil or other impurities; then rinse with clean water. The foulest ditch water treated as above, is rendered pure and fit for drinking. Any one traveling had better use the precaution of boiling all drinking water, when possible.

GREATER N. Y. POSTOFFICE.

It Will Be in Many Respects the Greatest Center for Mail Matter. The question of consolidating the New York and Brooklyn postoffices will, says the Sun, be considered in Washington later in the year, and Postmaster General Gary is quoted as saying that by the time the consolidation of the two cities takes effect his department will be ready to make the necessary changes in the administration of the postoffice. Meanwhile the various candidates for the postmaster of Brooklyn who are now in the field are of the opinion that the question of the salary to be paid to the successor of Postmaster Sullivan, after January, will be adjusted by a special act of congress. When the Brooklyn office is merged into a station, subordinate to the New York office, as it will be, the salary to be paid to the superintendent will be reduced to $2,000, which is the limit allowed for officials for this class. One of the Brooklyn members introduced a bill in the house, after the consolidation takes place, increasing the salary of the superintendent of the Brooklyn station to either $5,000 or $6,000 a year. The present salary of the postmaster of Brooklyn is $6,000. The postmaster of New York receives $8,000, the same as a member of the present cabinet. The postmaster of Long Island City receives $2,800. The duties devolving upon the postmaster of the enlarged New York will make this, in many respects, the greatest postoffice in the world. The revenue of the New York postoffice, from the sale of stamps, stamped envelopes, and postal cards, amounts in a year to $7,000,000; the sale of stamps for use by newspapers mailed to New York amounts to $200,000, or at the rate of nearly $2,000 a day. The other sources of revenue include $65,000 a year for postage collected for insufficient prepayment, $40,000 for the rent of Postoffice boxes and other items, bringing the total receipts up to nearly $8,000,000. Against this in the New York postoffice are expenses of about $3,500,000 a year, leaving a net profit to the United States of $4,500,000 from the operations of this one office. No other postoffice in the United States, of course, yields a profit nearly so large, and the net New York city revenues go far to pay up the losses in other states. Indeed, but for New York city's revenue the burden of expense from postal operations would be nearly one cent on the people of the United States. The operations of the Brooklyn postoffice, though not, of course, so large as those of New York, are considerable. The receipts last year from the sale of stamps and stamped envelopes in Brooklyn amounted to $1,000,000, this item also including the sums paid for newspaper stamps. The Brooklyn box rents amounted to $5,000 only. The expenses of the Brooklyn department amounted to $815,000, leaving a net revenue of $185,000. The receipts of the Long Island City postoffice in a year are $25,000 and the expenses $25,000, the profit being $10,000. When all the offices are consolidated into one, and especially the tubular system of communication between the various stations and substations is applied, the revenues of the enlarged city postoffice will, it is figured, be materially increased, and the profit will be much enlarged.

WISHES AND WORK.

Said one little chick, with a funny little squawk: "I wish I could find a nice, fat worm." Said another little chick, with a queer little shrug: "I wish I could find a nice, fat bug." Said a third little chick, with a strange little squeal: "I wish I could find some nice, yellow meal." "Now, look here," said the mother, from the green garden patch: "If you wish to get the best, you must get up and scratch." —Toronto Globe.
